The Literary Club.

The Literary Club was entertained last Friday night in a most elegant manner at the residence of Mr. J. H. Harrison. A full attendance was present.

Death of George B. McCallan.

George B. McCallan of the vicinity of Troy, died on April 1, 1895, of the effects of the grip. His death came while he was at the home of his brother-in-law, Mr. A. B. Kennedy, who was a gallant soldier in the Nineteenth regiment and fought the battles of his country with valor and heroism.

Splendid Stock.

The copy of Capt. L. W. White's advertisement was not received until last night. That is the reason it occupies so little space, but you look for it all the same. He has for years been distinguished for his excellent taste and good judgment in laying in his goods, and his familiarity with the wants of the people enable him to buy to please each individual customer. He will be glad to see you, and show you the latest and cheapest goods that he has ever brought to Abbeville.

Another Firm in the Jubilee. The firm of A. M. Hill & Sons was through a mistake omitted from the list of advertisers. This enterprising firm will make a specialty of their fruit department. Mr. Hill will be designing a most artistic banner.

Married. April 7, 1895, at the residence of Mr. W. T. Stewart, in Abbeville, by Rev. W. H. Axtell, Mr. R. W. Smith and Miss Elizabeth Yarbrough.

Cottolene. Fresh hot Cottolene, in 1, 3, 5, 10 and 20 lbs. tins, at Abbeville Supply Co.

Bratt Glenn, a negro man who was once a train hand on the Columbia and Greenville railroad, was shot and killed by the driver of a team in Jacksonville, Florida, and wounded others, resulting in arrest.

THE income tax law has been sustained by the Supreme Court in all but two provisions, the tax on rents, and on the bonds of State officers and towns. That knocks out of the window the revenue of the State.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES T. LATTIMER, of Lowndesville, spent last Sunday in town, with their brother Mr. J. H. Lattimer.

REV. B. M. CHEATHAM will preach at Lebanon on Sabbath the 14th inst., 11 o'clock a.m.

MOST DELICIOUS LECTURE.

Maj. James T. Bacon on "An Old Man's Kranky Kaleidoscope."

Albion, S. C., Feb. 1895.—Major James T. Bacon, of Edgefield, delivered his lecture, "An Old Man's Kranky Kaleidoscope," at the Institute Hall last night to an audience which, though small, was of the weather, was both cultivated and appreciative. And the lecture? It was a series of reminiscences of Southern life from 1845 to 1895. A fund of humor and a depth of pathos, I wish that every man north of Mason and Dixon's line, who thinks the slaves were ill-treated "before the war" could have heard the touching tribute Major Bacon paid to the old "mammy" who had been his nurse and his confidante. He had heard her when he was a boy, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man. He had seen her when he was a man, and he had seen her when he was a man.

WEST END.

Happenings and Incidents of a Week Around the City.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Lattimer, of Lowndesville, were in the city Sunday, the guests of Mr. J. H. Lattimer. The force of workmen at the railroad shops was reduced last week. This time the cut-off effected about ten men. It appears that the recent talk of an increase in the shops force was all talk, and that it is the policy of the G. C. & N. officials to give the Abbeville shops just as few men as can possibly be gotten along with, and make the shops the smallest affair on the whole system. Abbeville has been a friend in every particular to the G. C. & N. and deserves better treatment than she has received.

There was no service in the Presbyterian church last Sunday, the Rev. J. L. Wilson being absent in Columbia.

Mr. W. E. Owens has returned from a weeks stay at his home in Greensboro, N. C. During his absence Mr. Gaston Means has been pulling the throttle on the Vestibule, between this point and Monroe.

At the meeting of the citizens last week the following gentlemen were chosen to assist in the government of our little city for the next two years:

A. H. Morse, Ward one.
J. H. DuPre, Ward two.
J. G. Edwards, Ward three.
F. M. Miller, Ward four.

These gentlemen need no words of commendation or praise. They are all well known and have the respect and confidence of their fellow townsmen.

Mr. H. Stokes is the owner of a pretty new bicycle, and an expert rider.

Mess. J. A. and E. Ynestrer left Saturday. These gentlemen have been employed in the shops for some time, and during stay here, have made many friends. They left for their former home, Pensacola, Fla.

Dr. Sam Visanski is here on a visit to his father. Dr. Visanski has just returned from Atlanta, to which place he went to go before the State Board of Medical Examiners. He passed a most creditable examination, and we learn that he is the best paper, of the twenty odd, that were made. The Doctor will soon return to the Gate City, where he will practice his profession. We wish him every success in his new home.

The "Eastern Star" degrees were conferred upon a number of the ladies and gentlemen Friday evening, in the Masonic Hall by W. T. Branch, P. G. M.

Miss Tinsch, of Elberton, Ga., has been in the city several days, the guest of her friend Mrs. C. M. Penberton.

Mr. J. B. L. Cobb and Miss Florida Colburn, went over to Athens last Saturday and spent Sunday with friends.

Mrs. John Colburn, of Clinton, spent several days, this week, with her mother, Mrs. J. S. Colburn.

Miss Emma Hall, of Charlotte, is expected here next Monday. Miss Hall comes to assist in getting up the Jubilee. During her stay here she will be the guest of her friend, Mrs. A. B. Garrison.

Mr. Dave Burnett who lives near Mt. Moriah church, last Sunday morning killed a large eagle. This bird measured 7 feet 8 inches from tip to tip. The "bird of freedom" is very scarce in this part of the country, and this one had wandered far away from its accustomed haunts.

The B. L. E. have rented the hall over McCall and Tully's, and henceforth will use it as a Lodge room. They moved into their new quarters yesterday.

Editor L. C. Brannon, of the Honea Path Chronicle, was in the city yesterday in the interest of his paper.

Mr. Arthur Calhoun was on the street Monday. Arthur is a travelling salesman for an Atlanta house, and is making a success of his business, selling candles crackers and other goodies.

Dr. C. A. Milford is expected home from Baltimore the latter part of this week.

Mr. Thomas Smith, of Florida, who has been here for a week visiting Mr. W. Joel Smith and other relatives left yesterday.

ROARING ROCKY RIVER.

Acceptable Showers—Widow's Mite—Security of Seed Potatoes.

Lowndesville, S. C., April 8, 1895. April 8 was a very quiet day with us. The usual pleasures of April fooling was indulged in but sparingly, and that mostly by "Young Americans."

Mr. J. C. Thomas went to Abbeville last Sunday, where he met the County Board of Road Managers Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Oglesby of Elberton came over last Saturday week ago, and spent a day or two here with their son-in-law Dr. B. A. Henry.

Our municipal election came off Monday, and our citizens by the exercise of the franchise continued the old council in office for another year.

Mrs. C. E. Horton of Williamstead ended last Monday a ten day's visit to the family of her son Mr. E. R. Horton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. LeRoy left Tuesday for their summer home, where the latter will spend the summer, the former about two weeks.

Mr. A. Lattimer went to Anderson Tuesday and returned the next day.

Mr. James M. Baker and family came in from Washington, D. C. to their home here, where they will spend the three months' vacation.

Miss Bertha Simpson, who has been the efficient assistant in our high school for the past few months, and who had concluded her labors as such, returned to her Anderson home on Tuesday.

Mr. Joe Trowbridge of Anderson spent Friday in our midst.

Prof. T. O. Kirkpatrick and Mr. E. J. Huckabee took a drive to Anderson Saturday on business.

The white frost Thursday morning caused no little uneasiness as to the probable damage to the fruit blooms, but later it was seen that they were unharmed.

Several acceptable showers of rain have fallen in this section during the past week, which naturally aided the plowers in pushing their work. What rapid changes sometimes takes place. A little more than two weeks ago everything was in a very quiet, and being too wet to work, and before the showers the ground in many places was too dry to suit the plowers. Strange is it not, that so many of our plowers are so imprudent—all to prepare for future wants. In this section there has been a scarcity, and therefore a great demand for Irish, sweet potatoes and sugar cane seed. The second named highly prized, and it is to be hoped that she will, for once, not hand down to any of her coming sisters for this year, as she sometimes does.

How many of the readers of the Press and Banner have seen a "wider's" mill? It is a little of sacred history, of course, but the smallest coin ever issued? One of which is in the possession of a "Lord's Prayer," which can only be deciphered by the aid of a microscope. It is a curiosity. Troupe.
